Coloured (Treated/Dry) ✓

30ml £0.55 100ml £1.99 250ml £3.99 500ml £6.85

One of the main keys to prolonging the lifespan of the beautiful look of your treated hair is to keep the shaft from drying. Many treatments damage the hair, allowing a drying process to be accelerated. We moisturise our skin, so why not the hair? A good moisturising barrier will prolong the look and health of the hair. The best moisture for hair is actually water. To function properly, the body requires between one and seven litres of water per day to avoid dehydration. Water is good internally and externally for hair. Internally a well-hydrated body means that there is sufficient moisture for hair function, externally it means that the hair can maintain elasticity and suppleness. For moisturising hair, water is the king. However, hair is porous and keeping this moisture in hair is next to impossible without sealing it in. The best way to trap moisture in hair is to use an oil or a "fatty alcohol" based product designed to coat and seal. Oils are made of large molecules. These molecules are too large to be absorbed by the hair strand. Instead it coats the strands and seals in the moisture that is already in the hair. So the key to avoiding dry hair is to hydrate and seal.

To wash hair: Only a small application is required for an exceptional wash. Wet hair. Apply shampoo. Rinse. Repeat.

Black Rock Shampoo is designed to help correct the signs of premature hair ageing by accurately darkening the lighter grey strands WITHOUT DYE. Utilizing exceptional levels of Black* Pigment, the effect is amazing, darkening not dyeing the greys to a deeper, richer, younger tone. Years of premature ageing can be wiped away in an instant application that will last up to 3 days, and will slowly darken with continual use.

Black Rock Shampoo is exceptionally concentrated, so only a little is needed each application.

For best results, wearing a protective glove, apply the neat shampoo to the grey areas of hair that you wish to target whilst the hair is DRY. Leave for a minute or two, then apply warm water, and wash hair as normal. Rinse out.

Use gloves to apply. Avoid applying neat to visible skin such as ears, forehead and neck. If pigment transference occurs in unwanted areas, wash immediately.

*we refer to our colour blend as "black"

Shampoos & Conditioners

Hair extensions do not produce their own oils. Over a period of time, the extension can dry, becoming brittle and less attractive. One of the main keys to prolonging the lifespan of your extensions is to rehydrate and protect. We moisturise our skin, so why not our hair? A good moisturising barrier will do just this. The best moisture for hair is actually water. Internally, a well hydrated body means that there is sufficient moisture for hair function. Externally, it means that the hair can maintain elasticity and suppleness. As extensions are not fed by the body, it is essential to hydrate and feed them manually. For moisturising your extensions, water is the king. However, your extensions are porous and keeping this moisture in is next to impossible without sealing it in. The best way to trap moisture in your extensions is to use a sealant.

Moisturisers/sealants are made of large molecules. These molecules are too large to be absorbed by the hair strand. Instead, what they do is coat the strands and seal in the moisture that is already in the hair. So the key to preventing dry extensions is to hydrate and seal whilst avoiding the drying effects of products that are not designed to help. A good moisturising coat does not just seal, it also enhances the brilliance and lustre of your natural hair colour. Our shampoos, conditioners and treatments coat, seal, restore and add shine.

“Sulphates” - should you or shouldn't you?

The issue with sulphates is a strange one! Many people say, “no sulphates,” but when you try to get to the bottom of, “why not?” – the water gets very muddy. We researched this extensively, and the 2 best answers that we could find were these:

1. SLS & SLES (the most common sulphates in shampoo) were rumoured to be harmful to the environment and should not be used. SLS = sodium laureth sulphate, and SLES = sodium laureth ether sulphate. Most people shortened them to just “sulphate”. This caused the rumour to grow that “sulphates” (all sulphates) were bad. This is not the case.

2. It also seems that certain extension manufacturers were unhappy that very effective alternative shampoos became available, which affected sales. They changed their formula to something that was a little more exclusive to them, and then encouraged the rumour that sulphates were not safe. We think it is a good idea to ask yourself a question. If sulphates are fine for “real hair,” why are they not fine for “real hair extensions”? Is it the quality of the shampoo, or the quality of the extension that is the issue? Is it the bond?

When you consider that sulphates are still formulated into cutting edge shampoo technology, by the finest leading laboratories on the planet, are used in the absolute top shampoos of the world, and used by the most discerning and well educated elite of society, it does begin to make you think!

Although our opinion is not really what matters, surely, what is important to the extension, is the shine, the health and the lifespan. This is why we always recommend that you test products for yourself. If our results are as beautiful as we claim, and the lifespan of the extension is lengthened, is this not everything that you would want to ask from an aftercare product? We understand that choice is important, so we have products that fill both sides of the required ingredients.

Black Rock 50ml £6.99

Hold factor 8 - Matte finish

Suitable for shorter hair 1-3 inches

Black Rock is designed to correct the signs of premature hair ageing by accurately darkening the lighter grey strands WITHOUT DYE. Utilizing exceptional levels of Black* Pigment, the effect is amazing, darkening not dying the greys to a deeper, richer, younger tone. Years of premature ageing can be wiped away in an instant application – that will last until the product is either washed out of the hair or naturally wears off. Black Rock Styling Clay has a strong hold, so only a little need be applied. The use of a protective glove is recommended, as the black pigment will work as effectively on the skin as it will on your hair! Once fully dry, Black Rock will hold your hair, and will not transfer to collars or other contacted surfaces. If wetted (sweating or other forms of moisture), avoid surfaces as transferences may occur. Avoid visible areas of skin (forehead, neck, ears etc.) In the event of skin marking, wash immediately.

Amazing natural "Darkening" effect – does not "brown" the hair!

Use in conjunction with Black Rock Darkening Shampoo.

Washes out easily.

If irritation occurs, stop use immediately.

*We refer to our colour blend as "black"

Nano Tech Boars Hair Brush

Nano thermal ceramic ionic technology: enhance the look of your hair, improve texture, and reduce brittle hair and split ends! Helps to reduce frizz and add shine. Cuticles are sealed, producing a smooth, soft texture from roots to ends. Creates loose curls and waves in medium to long hair and helps straighten and add volume to shorter and medium styles. About using boar bristle: Human scalp naturally produces oil called sebum which acts as a protector for hair. The boar bristles help to spread this sebum around to lubricate each of your hair strands which reduces frizz. For smooth finishing and quick drying. Enhance your shine with Natural Boar Bristles.

Available in 3 sizes: 32mm, 43mm and 53mm

Round barrel: Large round shape creates volume and curl shine with natural boar bristles. Vented ceramic barrel heats up faster and retains heat longer. Extra large vents in the barrel are great for airflow, reducing drying time and adding more shine. This, along with the brush's anti-static and anti-bacterial properties, eliminates frizz and flyaways. Durable in mild to high heat.

Perfect for medium-long hair drying and styling.
